...bill to reduce the revenue
...Mills bill, but the committee
...would take its time If the house wished
...to prolong the session until the tariff
...bill was reported it would have to wait

Allison said in view of the surplus be-
...ing reduced to twenty million dollars was
...not the exigency for reduction of the
...revenue, which had existed but that
...nevertheless a tariff bill would be re-
...ported that would reduce the revenue at
...least sixty millions

...Hoar in respect to the proposition that
...Secretary Whitney was the representa-

The presiding officer declared the

The morse bill to enlarge the duties of

GREEN THOUGHTS.

Rose Elizabeth Cleveland Tells How to Obtain Rest.

First Requisite the Annihilation of the Past.

Contentment the Garden in Which Green Thoughts Grow.

Outside Environments Have But Little Effect.

[Copyright 1888 by Opinion Publishing Co.]

HARPER'S FERRY, N. Y., September 14.—If the path leading to Andrew Marvell's garden could be found there would at once set in motion a steady stream of pilgrimage. The summer boarder would inquire concerning the price of rooms in the vicinity, Dr Weir Mitchell's patients would desert him, for loiterings at noon, the mail driver would forget the interest people. As Marvell describes this garden it would be a green tangle, covered with weeds to suit the wants of some to whom it is one thing to be an object, and that to reach a place where all that has wearied and worried and excited is wiped out of the consciousness and all life is immersed through garden leaves—

[illegible]

It is not claimed that it belongs to either Christianity or civilization to beget so ardent a desire for the sweeping destruction of all things. It may be the offspring of total depravity, and it certainly is the outcome of experience. An honest confession must reveal the fact that the very pith and essence of a true idea of rest is found in Andrew Marvell's "Thoughts in a Garden." There are times when the very first requisite of [illegible] is annihilation of the past and that not with reference to the transgression of one's life, but only to its accumulations. One feels as does a good housekeeper in the attic that there is so much rubbish that a bonfire is the very best thing that can happen, choosing to run the risk of losing something of value in the certainty of being rid of so much that is valueless. So it is with the mind, so much of its accumulation is but impedimenta, we want nothing so much as to get first a vacuum and then a fresh thought!

I do not think Andrew Marvell a gar-
...dener to be found at Newport or at Long
...Branch or at Saratoga There is no an-
...nihilating of things made here I have
...not found it in the spacious parks of
...summer homes, hedged and walled away
...from all intrusion not in the most do-
...mestic dooryards, among old fashioned
...flowers and weeds There are things
...made well here even if home made
...Here, indeed may be found the fashion-
...ture of Andrew's garden, the lovely
...vines of its fair trees the dropping ap-
...ples, the luscious clusters of the vine
...the nectarine, the curious peach, melons
...to stumble over, flowers to be ensnared
...among, grass to fall on but no annihila-
...tion of all that's made The butcher,
...the baker, the [illegible] will all
...jump out of the growing potato, as well
...as from the proverbial one in the nursery
...rhyme, which was somewhat past ma-
...turity—there is no annihilating them
...Green thoughts do not grow here as a re-
...sult

How about the jungle, where "nature
...sickens"? In our search of the garden
...where green thoughts grow and crowd
...out by their verdure all previous tenants
...of the mind, in our need to "burst all
...links of habit" for a brief breath of
...care free life, shall we seek the cocoanut
...garden of nature, "some retreat in yon-
...der shining orient"—

[illegible]

Yes perhaps "more enjoyment," the
...nearest thing to it in theory, but far
...enough from annihilation of "things
...made," in practice.

There is no such thing as Nirvana be-
...fore the time The Yogin under his
...palm tree must take a lifetime of leg-
...crossing and staring into the sand to
...attain it, and if he believes he has at-
...tained it when insensibility arrives, so
...much the better for his peace of mind.

And so much the worse for ours We
...know this heaven on earth of the Hindoo
...comes only with

[illegible]

We know that the brain is the think-
...ing that to the mind there is no such
...thing as [illegible]
...ness preoccupation has set in

It is curious, though how resistant is
...[illegible]
"stone walls do not a prison make nor
...iron bars a cage"—if mind innocent
...and quiet, take that for a heritage," so
...as true is it that marble halls and spa-
...cious libraries and ingenious and costly
...appointments do not bring with them
...the luxury that old Lovelace found in
...prison None of these things reach to
...the [illegible] and was at once
...the mood of preoccupation We expect
...better things of nature—and to attain
...this mental liberty the recoil of the [illegible]

[illegible]
contrived at Newport or Saratoga or
...the Catskills, by the sea, in the heart of
...the forest primeval—in Tennyson's Ori-
...ent—yet the [illegible] thoughts do not come
The mind is the tyrant—inside its walls
...of flesh and bars of nerve it sits throned,

THE GAZETTE.

FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 14, 1888.

There are twenty-six inmates in the county jail.

Soap Bubble to-night, and enjoy a good laugh.

Colorado City Athletic grounds again to-day.

Mr. G. W. Smith, correspondent of the Denver News leaves in a few days for Texas, where he will spend the winter.

Opinion among local base ballists last night was that the Springs would win to-day although it will likely be a close game.

A fine specimen of a young elk was received at the Denver and Rio Grande freight depot yesterday. It is destined for the park at Cheyenne Cañon.

A negro woman was brought from Colorado City on Monday night and locked up in the county jail on a sentence of twenty days. She is charged with stealing.

The board of county commissioners were in session yesterday. After transacting some business they went to Manitou Park, and returning, they went to Fountain in the afternoon. They will be in session to-day again.

There will be a grand republican rally at Monument on Saturday. At 1 o'clock a pole will be raised with appropriate exercises and in the evening there will be speaking in the G. A. R. hall with prominent speakers from this city and Manitou.

The lodge of I. O. O. F. of Colorado City intend giving a ball at their headquarters one week from to-night. The members of the G. A. R. post of that city will be giving an entertainment on the same evening and will serve a supper for those who attend the ball.

Those who can enjoy a good laugh should attend the performance at the opera house to-night. "A Soap Bubble" is said to be one of the best musical comedies on the road. The play will be produced by a strong company of comedians headed by T. J. Farron and Ed. Connelly.

Two of the employes at Barbour's livery barn on Pike's Peak avenue became engaged in an altercation yesterday afternoon when one of them seized a rake and dealt the other a blow on the cheek, injuring him quite severely. The fellow who dealt the blow was arrested and will have his examination to-day.

A rumor was received in this city last evening that a very serious accident had occurred on the toll road to Pike's Peak. The particulars as complete as they could be learned are that when about ascending the road and a little half a mile above Cascade a team of horses attached to a carriage, in which were seated a number of persons, became frightened and ran away. The carriage was overturned and a lady of the party was seriously injured. Her name or the extent of her injuries could not be learned.

Miss P. K. Dilleuback, of the Kansas City school of oratory, and Miss Inez V. Townsend, a graduate of that institution, gave a dramatic reading at the First Methodist church last night to a well pleased audience. The selections which most pleased the audience were "Mary's Night Ride" by G. W. Cable and read by Miss Townsend, "The Dream of Eugene Aram" read by Mr. Dilleuback, and the "Chariot Race" from Ben Hur by Miss Townsend. It is announced that Miss Townsend will soon form a class in this city for instruction in elocution.

Miss Kate Davis, who plays Violet in Hoyt's "A Tin Soldier" this season, is known to the stage as "the woman with the phenomenal voice." During the season she played the part of the fairy queen in Hanlon's "Fantasma," and was one of the distinctive hits of that magnificent production. She is essentially a character comedienne, and her voice is truly marvelous, ranging from a deep, heavy contralto to a high piano. Her wonderful artistic abilities led Mr. Hoyt to make her one of his most valuable acquisitions. The Company will appear at the opera house next Monday evening and our people may expect to see a fine performance.

The Union Pacific Ry. is by all odds the best line East on account of the fast time that is made and the unquestionable route for entering Denver. Also the close connection that is made in Union Depot with the through trains from Kansas City, Council Bluffs, St. Louis, and Chicago, reaching all the principal cities in the east. The U. P. Ry. is also the short line to the Pacific Coast running two trains daily west and four trains to the east daily. The great through trains from Colorado points make close connections in Denver with the Union Pacific Ry.

So far there has been no effective criticism of what Harrison did or did not say in his letter. The only criticism is that he has not stood still in his tracks for the last twenty years. The Democrats would have liked Harrison to have been silent on the Chinese question and then have quoted his opinion of ten years ago as his present opinion.

General Harrison's utterance on civil service reform and Cleveland's silence on the same issue coupled with the renomination of D. B. Hill in New York, will call forth able editorials in the New York Tribune and Post. It requires a good deal of ability to give any good reasons why the independent republican who voted for Cleveland in 1884, should vote for Cleveland in 1888.

There was a great deal of froth about the democratic enthusiasm at the state convention. There is really no chance of the election of any democrat on the state ticket and the leaders know it. The cry against railroads will not be effective, because the democratic members of the legislature have largely been railroad men. In two instances at least in 1886 two republicans were defeated for the legislature by railroad influence to elect two democrats.

When the returns from Arkansas begin to show the crushed democratic majority the democrats are finding it too late to bulldoze the negroes and too late for ballot box stuffing to defeat the new scheme of stealing the ballot boxes in republican counties. The New York Herald supporting Cleveland had this dispatch about the [illegible]

In Crittenden county, from which the republican Democratic committee received no returns, the chairman of the democratic committee of that county has gone to Memphis to have consultation with the democratic managers of the state campaign. It is understood that the democrats have come up the river. The reason is that the people will not stand the frauds any longer, and republicans threaten to prevent them at the polls with force. No further trouble has been reported.

There is not the excitement to be seen in the streets of Denver [illegible] that there was last year. The Pueblo Press which is the oldest newspaper of [illegible] speaks of the [illegible] of Pueblo.
